Dear Senator Graham,

I have written to you approximately once per week since the beginning of the year to address judicial corruption and reform; especially related to abuse of power under color of law, widespread criminal conspiracy to shelter and protect judges and officers of the courts at the illegal expense of individual rights in direct violation of the U.S. Constitution.

Your response has been that those matters are outside your jurisdiction; meaning that a lawmaker is unable to address issues of law and provide the proper checks on abuses of another branch of government.

I'm guessing that would mean that a lawmaker's job is to appear on Sunday New programs and blow hot air...

Is that your final answer?

If so, you need to resign and allow someone with an iota of common sense to take over an important job that you are neglecting.

Sincerely,

Joey Berry
