Dear Senator Graham,

As I mentioned last week your office is ideally suited to addressing my concerns (notwithstanding your letter dated 2-9-15).

Again, please aid me in getting a special prosecutor appointed to address attacks on citizens of your state via a corrupt N.C. judiciary with subsequent failures and criminal obstruction within the U.S. Supreme Court.

There needs to be accountability within the Justice System (for judges, prosecutors, police, et cetera).

As I have previously mentioned, I have spent over two and a half years giving courts an ability to correct their own errors and the abuses of lower court judges to no avail (with approximately 100-300 accumulated violations directly related to three members of the judiciary and substantially more violations likely provable with adequate investigations on additional members of the judiciary).

Currently no real process for judicial accountability exists without public and/or political pressure.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Joey Berry

P.S. Given your recent comments about your lack of email communications, I am concerned that you may be as out-of-touch with reality about the Judiciary as you are about modern society. Email is a vital tool to effective activity (especially business); there doesn't appear to be an way that you can justify a lack of use of email in pursuing the business of government without an implication that you are lax in your responsibilities. Your letter to me dated 2-9-15 indicated that you were either misinformed or lax in your responsibilities to your constituents (especially related to the Judiciary); the lack of follow-up combined with your apparent perspective on a vital communication tool disturbingly supports your being lax. Please provide action to address the lack of accountability in the judiciary (directly and legislatively) ASAP.

P.P.S. Copy of my complaint log to date:

-complaint failed with error
[also appears to be for federal employees]

1-16-15 @ approximately 11:30AM - initiate telephone complaint with USDOJ - Public Integrity Section (202) 514-1412

-Discussed a desire to bring criminal charges against two state judges and a clerk of the U.S. Supreme Court (for deprivations under color of law, obstruction, et cetera); included a desire to prosecute for general corruption within the Judiciary as well.

-She indicated that the clerk issue is likely administrative not criminal (regardless of the criminal deprivation of rights); i.e. within his discretion to obstruct Due Process.

-She indicated that their Section prosecutes Federal matters; I challenged that they also were responsible for state court violations (which she acknowledged as limited); she recommended that I contact the N.C. Attorney General's Office & I mentioned that I believe that his office is directly involved in corruption of the N.C. Judiciary (as a judge involved in a former complaint was made aware of the complaint but the A.G. made no effort to follow-up on the substance of the initial complaint).

-She indicated that their office doesn't do investigations; I indicated that I had attempted criminal complaints with the F.B.I. and they cut the conversation short without taking the specific allegations (which would likely number in the hundreds).

-She noted that I had a right to submit written materials to their office (and the DOJ for Civil Rights violations).

She would not give a name any or identifier to verify the conversation based on security issues; she said I should reference a call made to their office @ 11:49AM on Friday, 1-16-2015 to identify the conversation (but that it is not logged or recorded).

She indicated that I should mail materials to:

[received a letter from Lindsey Graham's office]

"Because your concern is legal in nature, it is outside of my official jurisdiction. Therefore, it would be inappropriate for me to intervene at this time."

- dated 2-9-15
- appears to be generic response (?by staff?)
- ignores substance of complaints and attempts to claim "legal concerns" are outside his "official jurisdiction" (??? as a lawmaker ???); i.e. another instance of no process.
- clearly lacks understanding of fundamental issues I attempted to raise.

[*need to clarify with specifics what an appropriate response is and why; outline "Federal" issues.]
